

Dr. Chemo Superhero And Friends

In memory of Glenn Sellnow who was the inspiration for Dr. Chemo Superhero

We can become frightened when we hear the word cancer, but there is One who is bigger than cancer, and that is God our Creator.

Today I have brought a few of my Superhero friends, because cancer treatment can be a scary thing at times .

I want you to meet my friend Sensation Radiation.

He takes tumors and brings them down in size. They can't out do Sensation Radiation, he's too powerful for them. Don't let the size of this machine scare you, because Superhero Sensation Radiation has this to say, "There is someone bigger than this machine and that is God."

I want you to meet my friend Allusion Infusion.

Many people do not know what an infusion is. You may have to explain it to them. But Allusion Infusion will help you.

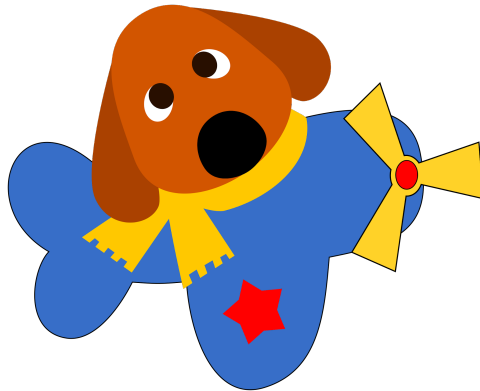

I brought along another friend. Her name is Cat Scan.

People do not always like going inside of a machine, but Cat Scan wants you to know that you are not alone, because there is someone else with you, and that is your guardian angel.

I have another friend and his name is X Ray.

X Ray knows about flying over and taking pictures.
He has you covered.

Stay Paw.sitive!

Sometimes you have to wear a mask, because you too, are a Superhero.

Nurses are your friends. They are Superheroes also.

And there is no greater friend than your pet.
Superheroes together!

We certainly can not forget your doctor.

He wants to do all he can to help you,

and everyone else who works at the hospital.

And if you need surgery, remember God is with you through it all, and He loves you and He will not leave your side because He is your friend also.

If you have cancer, I'm here to say, Dr. Chemo knows that you have many people who will help you get through it. God loves you and your family loves you and all my friends are here today because they love you too.
